TV Markets by Nielsen Marketing Research Territory

Nielsen Marketing Research territory groupings are another standard way of reporting sales data. The following table ranks TV markets within each Nielsen Territory. This provides a yardstick for determining the number of spot markets needed to achieve a given coverage of a territory. For example, if the national media re not delivering sufficient advertising weight in New England, the planner will find that three TV markets (Boston, Hartford and Providence) contain almost 80% of the New England territory households. Or, he can use the table to get a better idea of how and what TV markets are needed to cover all of New England. Data is from special Nielsen Station Index tabulation based on a January 1987 estimate.

How Network Delivery Varies by Market

National advertisers use spot television to increase network advertising weight in specific markets to achieve a predetermined level. These market goals are derived from the advertising budget and the market's share of the brand's projected sales. Thus, a spot schedule is usually indicated where a market has an unusually high brand-sales potential, or where the network weight delivered for the brand is below the national average used in planning, or both.

The first factor, market brand potential, varies by product and is difficult to generalize. The second factor, local-market network audiences, must be generalized because planning is based upn next season's anticipated network performance. The prevalance of network package buys, which tend to deliver average audience levels, supports the use of average data.

The following tabulation, chosen especially for the BROADCASTING/CABLECASTING YEARBOOK, shows Arbitron Televsion's Areas of Dominant Influence (ADI) in terms of percent of the total number of U.S. TV households. Also given, in like percentage terms, are the network audiences in each ADI market during prime-time hours. It is this market audience figure, when compared to the market's share of the population, that indicate whether the network commitment will perform above or below the national plan average in that market.

The figures are based on Aribtron Television's May 1986 Network Program Group Analysis.

Editor's note: The mandatory-carriage and input-selector rules, better known as the must-carry and A/B switch rules respectively, which were issued by the FCC in December 1986, were expected to be challenged by broadcasters, cable operators and cable programers. As a result, they may undergo significant modification in 1987.

Lotteries (76.213).

(a) No cable television system operator, except as in paragraph (c), when engaged in origination cablecasting shall transmit or permit to be transmitted on the origination cablecasting channel or channels any advertisement of or information concerning any lottery, gift, enterprise, or similar scheme, offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance, or any list of prizes drawn or awarded by means of any such lottery, gift enterprise, or scheme, whether said list contains any part or all of such prizes.

(b) The determination whether a particular program comes within the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section depends on the facts of each case. However, the Commission will in any event consider that a program comes within the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section if in connection with such program a prize consisting of money or thing of value is awarded to any person whose selection is dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance, if as a condition of winning or competing for such prize, such winner or winners are required to furnish any money or thing of value or are required to have in their possession any product sold, manufactured, furnished, or distributed by a sponsor of a program cablecast on the system in question.

(c) The provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall not apply to advertisements or lists of prizes or information concerning a lottery conducted by a State acting under the authority of State law when such information is transmitted:

(1) by a cable system located in that State,

(2) by a cable system located in an adjacent State which also conducts such a lottery, or

(3) by a cable system located in another State which is integrated with a cable system described in (c)(1) or (2) herein, if termination of the receipt of such transmission by the cable system in such other State would be technically infeasible.

(d) For the purposes of paragraph (c) lottery means the pooling of proceeds derived from the sale of tickets or chances and allotting those proceeds or parts thereof by chance to one or more chance takers or ticket purchasers. It does not include the placing or accepting of bets or wagers on sporting events or contests.

Obscenity (76.215).

No cable television system operator when engaged in origination cablecasting shall transmit or permit to be transmitted on the origination cablecasting channel or channels material that is obscene or indecent.

Sponsorship Identification; List Retention; Related Requirements (76.221).

(a) When a cable television system operator engaged in origination cablecasting presents any matter for which money, service, or other valuable consideration is either directly or indirectly paid or promised to, or charged or accepted by such cable television system operator, the cable television system operator, at the time of the cablecast, shall announce (i) that such matter is sponsored, paid for, or furnished, either in whole and or in part, and (ii) by whom or on whose behalf such consideration was supplied: provided, however, that "service or other valuable consideration" shall not include any service or property furnished either without or at a nominal charge for use on, or in connection with, a cablecast unless it is so furnished in consideration for an identification of any person, product, service, trademark, or brand name beyond an identification reasonably related to the use of such service or property on the cablecast. For the purposes of this section, the term "sponsored" shall be deemed to have the same meaning as "paid for".

(b) Each cable television system operator engaged in origination cablecasting shall exercise reasonable diligence to obtain from its employes, and from other persons with whom it deals directly in connection with any matter for cablecasting, information to enable such system operator to make the announcement required by this section.

(c) In the case of any political origination cablecast or any origination cablecast matter involving the discussion of public controversial issues for which any film, record, transcription, talent, script or other material or service of any kind is furnished, either directly or indirectly, to a cable television system operator as an inducement for cablecasting such matter, an announcement shall be made both at the beginning and conclusion of such cablecast on which such material or service is used that such film record, transcription, talent, script or other material or service has been furnished to such cable television system operator in connection with the transmission of such cablecast matter: provided, however, that in the case of any cablecast of five minutes' duration or less, only one such announcement need be made either at the beginning or conclusion of the cablecast.

(d) The announcement required by this section shall, in addition to stating the fact that the origination cablecasting matter was sponsered, paid for or furnished, fully and fairly disclose the true identity of the person or persons, or corporation, committee, association or other unincorporated group, or other entity by whom or on whose behalf such payment is made or promised or from whom or on whose behalf such services or other valuable consideration is received, or by whom the material or services referred to in paragraph (c) of this section are furnished. Where an agent or other person or entity contracts or otherwise makes arrangements with a cable television system operator on behalf of another, and such fact is known or by the exercise of reasonable diligence, as specified in paragraph (b) if this section, could be known to the system operator, the announcement shall disclose the identity of the person or persons or entity on whose behalf such agent is acting instead of the name of such agent. Where the origination cablecasting material is political matter or matter involving the discussion of controversial issue of public importance and a corporation, committee, association or other unincorporated group, or other entity is paying for or furnishing the matter, the system operator shall, in addition to making the announcement required by this section, require that a list of the chief executive officers or members of the executive committee or of the board of directors of the corporation, committee, association or other unincorporated group, or other entity shall be made available for public inspection at the local office of the system. Such lists shall be kept and made available for a period of two years.

(e) In the case of origination cablecast matter advertising commercial products or services, an announcement stating the sponser's corporate or trade name, or the name of the sponsor's product, when it is clear that the mention of the name of the product constitutes a sponsorship identification, shall be deemed sufficient for the purposes of this section and only one such announcement need be made at any time during trhe course of the cablecast.

(f) The announcement otherwise required by this section is waived with respect to the origination cablecast of "want ad" or classified advertisements sponsored by an individual. The waiver granted in this

A short course in cable, 1987

There are 7,800 operating cable systems in the U.S., serving some 20,000 communities. Another 700 franchises are approved but not built. Texas has the most systems (540) and California the most subscribers (3.9 million). Operating systems currently reach about 41.5 million subscribers, perhaps over 116 million people—47.9% of the nation's TV households. The largest (Cox Cable in San Diego) has about 271,000 subscribers. Some have fewer than 100. Tele-Comunications Inc. is the largest multiple system operator (MSO), with more than 3,900,000 subscribers. Industry revenues last year totaled approximately $4.5 billion. Most systems offer 20 or more channels. Systems constructed after March 1972 must have a minimum 20-channel capacity. The average monthly fee (basic service) is $11. Costs of laying cable range from $10,000 per mile in rural areas to $100,000 in urban areas and up to $300,000 where underground cable is required. An estimated 4,200 systems originate programing in their own studios, the average for 23 hours weekly. Equipment costs are as low as $30,000 for a small black and white operation and $200,000 for a color studio. Over 1,600 systems (20% of all systems) accept advertising on their local origination channels (excluding automated channels), with rates from $2 to $250 per 30-second spot. Most cable systems derive less than 5% of their gross revenues from advertising. Pay cable is on approximately 7,000 systems and reaches 32 million subscribers in 50 states. Most pay cable operators are reporting close to 78% penetration of their subscriber count. Home Box Office Inc. initiated the first national satellite interconnected pay network Sept. 30, 1975, using transponder time leased on the Satcom satellite. Aside from contracting for packaged pay programs, like HBO, cable operators can lease a channel to a pay program operator or secure their own programing directly from a supplier. Almost 32% of all cable sysems have ties with broadcast interests, over 20% with program producers and approximately 18% with newspapers. Many systems have multiple cross-ownership ties.

Cable Systems in the United States and Canada

Key to Listings

Listed in this directory are all the cable television systems and franchise holders in the United States and Canada. Each is listed under the principal community of service, by state or province.

Shown to the right is a sample listing, with explanation of information keyed to the boldface numbers. This information is as of May 1986.

(1) Name of System, local address, zip code and telephone.

(2) Personnel.

(3) Area served: Springfield is the principal community; the system also serves nearby Paris borough and Twilham township.

(4) County in which the service area is located.

(5) Type of TV market. According to FCC rules a CATV system is within a TV market if any part of the system falls within 35 miles of a commercial TV city-of-license. There are three locational categories: Top 100 markets; "smaller TV markets," i.e., any community with a commercial TV station not in the top 100; and, third, locations outside all TV markets. Systems outside a market may still be required to offer nonduplication protection if they fall within 55 miles of a city of license.

(6) Statistical data: total number of subscribers; homes passed by the system; total homes in the communities served; date the system began; length of the plant; cost to the subscriber for installation and monthly service; and fee the community levies on the cable company (usually a percentage of gross revenue). In states with across-the-board fee, the fee appears under the state heading.

(7) Summary of system, showing number of channels used for each service. Total capacity is that of the distribution system. Pan-State has 27 channels. Twelve are used for TV carriage; one for pay cable (which carries high-quality programing at an additional charge); two for basic cable services, such as CNN or ESPN; two for automated services, such as weather and news data; four for public access programing; three for any other programing originated by the cable system; two are technically unavailable; three are dark but available for future use. The system also supplies allband FM service. (If the system carries selected radio, rather than allband, the number of AM and FM stations is shown).

(15) Ownership: Lunar Cable Co. 60% (see MSO); James Buchanon, pres, 15%; G. Marconi, exec VP, 25% (see Bcstrs in Cable TV).

(8) Pay cable: Where a cable system provides a pay cable service, a solid square (■) highlights the pertinent information: the number of channels on which pay service is carried, the program supplier, total pay subscribers and monthly subscriber cost above that charged for regular cable services. Pay cable program suppliers are: Home Box Office (HBO), Showtime, The Movie Channel, Cinemax, The Playboy Channel, The Disney Channel, Bravo and American Movie Classics, as well as several regional sports and general programing services. Galavision is converting from a pay to a basic service.

(9) Basic cable: The sample listing shows that this system has two basic cable channels. The two channels carry satellite transmitted programing. Basic cable services carry a minimal charge paid by the cable system operator or no charge programing. These services often carry advertising. Services are: ACTS Satellite Network, Arts & Entertainment (A&E), Black Entertainment Television (BET), CNN, CNN Headline News, CBN Cable Network, Country Music Television, C-SPAN, C-SPAN II, The Discovery Channel, Entertainment & Sports Programming Network (ESPN), Eternal Word Television Network (EWTN), Financial News Network (FNN), Galavision, Genesis Story Time, The Home Shopping Network, KTVT(TV) Dallas, The Learning Channel, The Liberty Network, Music Television (MTV), The Nashville Network (TNN), National Jewish Television (NJT), Nickelodeon, PTL-The Inspiration Network, The Silent Network, Tempo, USA Cable Network, Video Hits One (VH-1), The Weather Channel (TWC), WFMT(FM) Chicage, WGN-TV Chicago, WOR-TV New York, WPIX(TV) New York, WTBS(TV) Atlanta.

(10) Automated origination: Two channels are used by this system to carry automated news, weather and time.

(11) Access channels: Channels are made available for programing by persons other than the cable operator. Channels are assigned to the general public, educational institutions and local government. Channels may also be leased by private parties.

(12) Other origination: The sample listing shows that this system has one other origination channel. It is a locally originated channel. This type of origination often carries advertising.

(13) System accepts advertising (on local origination or automated channels), with yearly revenue shown.

(14) Other services offered by the system: "Two-way capability" indicates the distribution system is equipped to handle subscriber-to-headend signals. Special radio service (distant imported signals, shortwave, etc.) are also shown.

(15) Ownership: If a multiple system operator (MSO) owns the system in part or in whole, reference is made to the MSO' directory on page D-305 of this section, listing the particulars for persons and companies with an interest in three or more cable operations. (Canadian MSO's are listed in the following directory). Headquarters addresses and other interests may appear here, rather than under the individual system's listing. If a cable operator has broadcast interests, reference is made to the "Broadcasters in Cable TV" directory which is in this section on page D-324.
